Payment Terms

Payments will be made through RTGS/NEFT/cheque in favor of Lextria Research within 5 days of invoice date. Invoices will be subject to applicable Goods and Services Tax (GST) as per prevailing laws. A late payment charge of 5% per month will be charged for invoices beyond the agreed payment time. Please note that payments remitted via PayPal will incur an additional surcharge of up to 9% to cover transaction and currency conversion fees.

Client Responsibilities

The Client will deliver all documents, information, and data necessary for completing the engagement. Failure to produce requested information timely may affect service timelines and deliverables. Accuracy and completeness of all the information given are solely the Client's responsibility.

Confidentiality

Both Parties agree to maintain confidentiality regarding all information exchanged during the engagement. No confidential information shall be disclosed to any third party without prior written consent, except as required by law. The confidentiality obligations shall survive the termination of this engagement.

Limitation of Liability

Lextria Research shall not be liable for any indirect, incidental, or consequential damage arising from the services provided. The total liability of Lextria Research under this engagement shall not exceed the total fees paid by the Client for the respective service.

Termination

Either Party can end this engagement by giving prior 5 days' written notice. On termination, the Client will be responsible for paying for services received up to the date of termination. Where termination is done at the discretion of the Client, any advance payments will be non-refundable except as otherwise agreed.

Force Majeure

Neither Party shall be liable for any delay or failure in the performance of its obligations under this Engagement Letter if such delay or failure results from circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the affected Party, including but not limited to acts of God, natural disasters, epidemics or pandemics, fire, flood, war, terrorism, civil unrest, strikes or labour disputes, government actions or orders, changes in applicable law or regulation, disruption of internet or telecommunications infrastructure, or failure or downtime of any required website or portal necessary for the performance of the services.

The affected Party shall promptly notify the other Party in writing of the occurrence of such event and its expected duration. The affected Party shall use reasonable efforts to mitigate the impact of the force majeure event and resume performance as soon as practicable. If the force majeure event continues for a period exceeding thirty (30) days, either Party may terminate this Engagement Letter by providing written notice to the other Party, without liability for such termination, save for payment of fees for services already rendered up to the date of termination.

Governing Law and Dispute Resolution

This Engagement Letter will be subject to the laws of India. Any disputes would first be resolved amicably through mutual consultation. In case of not being resolved, the dispute would be referred to arbitration under the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996. The proceedings of arbitration will be conducted in Udupi and the arbitrator's decision will be final and binding.

Amendments

Any modifications to this Engagement Letter shall be mutually agreed upon in writing.

Acknowledgment and Acceptance

If the above terms and conditions are acceptable, kindly sign and return a copy of this Engagement Letter as a token of your acceptance.
